

Tomorrow Is The Future

A Poem

The shining through the stars where you can go to different planets any day or at any time you like and time is infinite. You can go back in time. Earth can now create wood instead of chopping trees down and killing our atmosphere.

We can now make anything
Not from a 3D printer just From a white plastic ball and we can do anything.

Fly, breathe under water, super smart and you can do through

Help of friends and family

Their teleporter for a price of a car

And a phone in a size

Of a computer mouse

And can show pictures

Or videos also holograms

Sounds for talk and text

For people like you and me.

Robots help people and are

Your friends and help the poor

And sick. The dated houses

Are the super modern houses

That we have today!

Instead of people going
To school, school
Comes to us and the teachers
Are robots and they Are like the teacher's we Have today! Also books are Tablets, but of course
We still have libraries
Instead of books on shelves
We have tablets on the shelves.
Also we have librarians working Hard, but half are robots and half
Are humans! To wrap this up
In the future
We do good deeds for our Needy.
So when we
What the future to happen
We will let it happen so
Do not worry
That your going to die we
All are Someday so enjoy life
And enjoy your life too.