

Thunderstorms

Verse 1:

Trembling words, trembling hands
Just like the storm clouds ahead
Wondering why I'm standing here
Me staying without you near
Why must you go into the wind
Leaving me behind
I'll hide away with my friends
Who live inside my head
After today to them only
Will I have something to say
Everything's about drop, fall like the rain
Will I ever see you again
Don't leave, I cry, as the thunder starts to roll
Scared, even though it's just giants going for a bowl
But I know it's my world falling apart
In a thunderstorm

Refrain:

Thunder rumbles, I wave good-bye
Lightning cracks, will you remember me
Rain pours, from our mistakes will we ever learn
You are more than just a person
You are you, always my friend
You leave in a thunderstorm, I'll wait in a thousand

Verse 2:

We never could sit still
Even against our will
Laughing, crying, sighing,
Pushing each other, fighting
Gazing at the moon and stars
In each other's backyards
Little kids falling in mud puddles
Now you're off to college to solve math muddles
Will we remain friends

Even around the coming bends
Our stories intertwined
Now may begin to unwind
Pinky-swear one more time
We will stay in rhyme
You like lemon, I like lime
Please don't make me promise not to cry

Refrain:

Thunder rumbles, I wave good-bye
Lightning cracks, will you remember me
Rain pours, from our mistakes will we ever learn
You are more than just a person
You are you, always my friend
You leave in a thunderstorm, I'll wait in a thousand

Bridge:

Same, same, but different
Now we're moving on friend
My tears fall with the rain
You catch them as you board the train
And I catch yours

Refrain:

Thunder rumbles, I wave good-bye
Lightning cracks, will you remember me
Rain pours, from our mistakes will we ever learn
You are more than just a person
You are you, always my friend
You leave in a thunderstorm, I'll wait in a thousand

Coda:

Until, one day, the thunderstorm ends
With a smile and a rainbow that bends
Into a hug from you, my friend