SUMMER MUSIC SERIES
Six nights of OUT OF THIS WORLD music on the South Lawn!

My Fave will allow you to put your favorite authors’ latest work on hold “automatically” because Cromaine will do it for you. Lots more detail coming on this, but I know as one of those AVID readers, I am geeked! Knowing your favorites also means we will know to order your favorites when they are announced (often six months in advance, as you have told us) and will get you in line for a Cromaine copy (since new books are reserved to the owning library holds for the first three months in our shared catalog).

Third, this summer as part of a focus on science, space, and technology, we plan to roll out Augmented (AR) and Virtual (VR) Reality equipment for use at the Library. We are exploring two forms of VR: one is a classroom size (ten) set of Google goggles and experiences based on google earth, called Google Expeditions. The other is a PlayStation (PS) experience with individual VR experiences of particular value in working with teens on the spectrum and with special needs and their families. Look for the Technology Open House events this summer to get an AR/VR experience. You may have heard of VR and its use in teaching surgeons how to perform very delicate operations before they are working on your body. AR/VR is considered the next major direction for education, far beyond the operating room. Cromaine wants to be sure that our area students have access to this new technology.

One of the most fruitful activities in which Cromaine has been engaged is now live: Hartland Living! In partnership with Hartland Area Chamber of Commerce, Hartland Consolidated Schools, and Hartland Township, Hartland Living offers a true community-wide calendar of events open to the public from not just our four organizations, but yours, too! Please visit hartlandliving.com to check out the latest news and happenings and especially the community calendar. We truly believe that this partnership as evidenced by the brand of Hartland Living is “inspiring a higher quality of life”! Watch, too, for further collaborations among the partners as we strive to increase your opportunities and enjoyment of the Hartland area and all it offers, not just this summer, but all year-round.

FROM THE LIBRARY DIRECTOR
CECI MARLOW
This summer I am excited to announce New, New, New services for You!
Over the summer, we will introduce a Library of Things—interesting items and devices that we think you may have use for, including a telescope, a microscope, an auto diagnostic code reader, a portable data bank charger, a ukulele with an instruction book and DVD, knitting looms, a drone, and a planetarium projector. Like the mobile hot spots, these items will check out for one week and can be placed on hold. While they are available to all Cromaine resident patrons, each has a significant replacement cost, so parents please be aware of what your young people are checking out!
We also are excited to introduce a “concierge” service we’ve named “Save My Fave!” avid readers know when their favorite authors are coming out with a new book, and truly avid readers want to be the first in line! Save My Fave will allow you to put your favorite author’s latest work on hold “automatically” because Cromaine will do it for you. Lots more detail coming on this, but I know as one of those avid readers, I am geeked! Knowing your favorites also means we will know to order your favorites when they are announced (often six months in advance, as you have told us) and will get you in line for a Cromaine copy (since new books are reserved to the owning library holds for the first three months in our shared catalog).
Third, this summer as part of a focus on science, space, and technology, we plan to roll out Augmented (AR) and Virtual (VR) Reality equipment for use at the Library. We are exploring two forms of VR: one is a classroom size (ten) set of Google goggles and experiences based on google earth, called Google Expeditions. The other is a PlayStation (PS) experience with individual VR experiences of particular value in working with teens on the spectrum and with special needs and their families. Look for the Technology Open House events this summer to get an AR/VR experience. You may have heard of VR and its use in teaching surgeons how to perform very delicate operations before they are working on your body. AR/VR is considered the next major direction for education, far beyond the operating room. Cromaine wants to be sure that our area students have access to this new technology.
One of the most fruitful activities in which Cromaine has been engaged is now live: Hartland Living! In partnership with Hartland Area Chamber of Commerce, Hartland Consolidated Schools, and Hartland Township, Hartland Living offers a true community-wide calendar of events open to the public from not just our four organizations, but yours, too! Please visit hartlandliving.com to check out the latest news and happenings and especially the community calendar. We truly believe that this partnership as evidenced by the brand of Hartland Living is “inspiring a higher quality of life”! Watch, too, for further collaborations among the partners as we strive to increase your opportunities and enjoyment of the Hartland area and all it offers, not just this summer, but all year-round.
